Duo Samuel Borkson and Arturo Sandoval III also know as the collective, FriendsWithYou have been spreading magic, luck and friendship into the universe since 2002. We Are FriendswithYou, their monograph published by Rizzoli, features contributions from Alejandro Jodorowsky, Peter Doroshenko, and Pharrell Williams and is a happy retrospective of their creations and collaborative efforts worldwide over the past twelve years.

Their book launch in Los Angeles happens this Saturday, May 31 at MOCA. The event will host a bounce house providing fun for all ages, a live sound environment performance by Money Mark and live airbrushing of pieces created on site by artist Malcolm Stuart. Sam and Tury will also debut the FriendsWithYou/Print All Over Me capsule collection.

East coast dwellers can attend their NYC book launch at the PK Shop on June 5.

We Are FriendsWithYou is now available online here.
